

Dermatology Quiz – Part I

Journal of the Ceylon College of Physicians, 2015, 46, 57

1. This 25 year old man presented with this facial lesion that is mildly tender, with a red right eye of two weeks duration. He is not on medication.
 - 1.1 What is the most likely diagnosis?
 - 1.2 How is this treated?

3. A 55 year old man presented with these skin lesions 2 weeks after a lower respiratory tract infection.
 - 3.1 What is the diagnosis?
 - 3.2 What specific question would you ask him?
 - 3.3 How do you manage?

2. This 52 year old man has a history of long term systemic disease with recent exacerbation of his skin disease following exposure to sunlight.
 - 2.1 What is your diagnosis?
 - 2.2 How do you treat the skin lesions?

4. A 35 year old woman presents with these skin lesions of one year. Her mother also had a similar skin disease. She had developed severe large joint arthritis more recently. What is the diagnosis?

(Answers on page 62)